SENIOR CITIZENS HOLD JANUARY MEETING

Tuesday was a typical winter day with north wind and sunshine. Half a hundred typical State of Maine citizens gathered for the monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens.

The Methodist Church was the warm and welcoming host to the eager members who from all sections of the surrounding areas joined the village group. West Bethel, East Bethel, Hanover and Paradise were represented by the always faithful. The absence of the Locke Mills and Rumford members was noted and it is hoped to see them next month at the Congregational Church.

The usual bountiful and delicious meal was served by the Methodist women. The birthday cake given by Madge Vogt was large and handsome.

January birthdays honored were Gladys Cross, Rena Abbott, Florence Thurston, Madge Vogt, Jennie Coburn, Leona Curtis and Edith Oolledge.

Scenic and pictorial views of New England were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bernett.

Like all meetings of this group this was a friendly and sociable party. Several interesting programs and luncheons are planned for the near future. New members and guests are welcome.

DATES FOR CHANNEL 10 AUCTION ANNOUNCED

A spokesman for WCCB-TV has announced dates for the 1974 Channel 10 Auction—April 26 through May 5. With the announcement of an expanded 10-day on-air schedule, Deborah Bates, Auction producer, indicated that work on the third annual auction is currently in progress. The producer said, "We've instituted an 'Auction Alert' this year. Starting immediately, our auction support team will become active throughout the state."

WCCB, the viewer supported public television station serves nearly 700,000 people residing in some 240 cities and towns from Waterville to the Kennebec. Providing the only TV showcase of its kind in the state, Channel-10's Auction gives various segments of the regional community an opportunity to share in local public television. Because interest in WCCB's Auction has doubled in its brief two-year history, station management believes that 18.5% of current annual operating budget will come from the 1974 event.

"Auction is largely a cooperative venture of several thousand community-minded donors and some 700 dedicated volunteer workers who are backed up by station personnel," Miss Bates commented. She further related, "The volunteers and donors genuinely believe in public broadcasting. They enjoy and benefit from their involvement in the auction. While the station receives essential operating funds, donors and volunteers recognize that they are indispensable to making our auction process work."

In a year when experts predict many Americans will be home-bound due to the energy situation, Maine citizens can brighten the outlook for their public television picture by participating in the 1974 Channel 10 Auction. Advance inquiries about volunteerism and donations can be made now to Channel 10 Auction, Lewiston, Maine, 04240.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

We received a communication from the Forestry Dept. calling attention to Section 1, Title 12 of the Revised Laws of the State of Maine, that the state's landowners who sell stumpage during the calendar year shall render a report during the month of January of the following year. Owners who cut stumpage for his own business must also submit a report.

A copy of the law is displayed in the Town Office. Forms are also available at the office or they may be obtained from the Forestry Dept. in Augusta.

The information contained in the reports will be used by the State Tax Assessor to determine values of the various species of wood.

Any request for an article to be placed in the town warrant that requires an appropriation of money must be presented to the Town Office immediately. The Budget Committee is meeting Wednesday nights to review all articles. They must complete their work early in February in order for us to get material to the printers in time to print the town reports for town meeting.

If for any reason a taxpayer who would like one is not receiving a town report, they may contact the office and we will mail one. Only residents receive one unless we are notified differently.

CHRISTMAS BIRD COUNT TAKEN IN BETHEL AREA

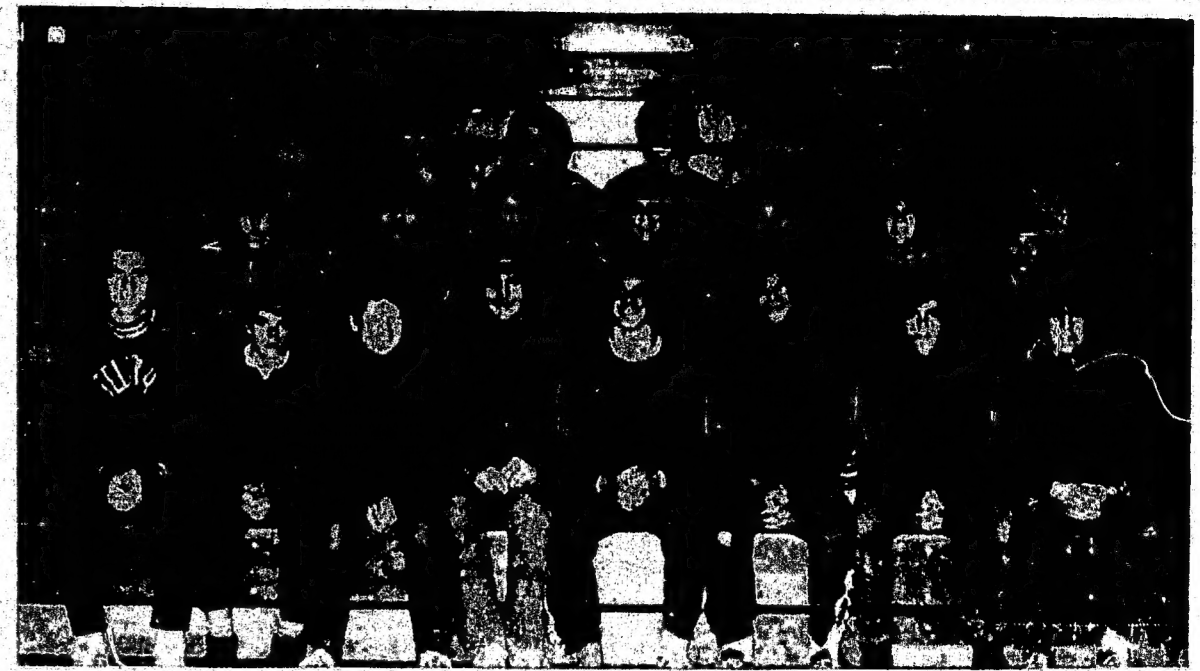

In cooperation with the National Audubon Naturalist Council, an official bird count was conducted in a 15 mile diameter circle in the town of Bethel on Saturday, Dec. 20, 1973.

The seven interested birders, divided into three parties, traveled 111 miles by car and one mile on foot. The area covered was East Bethel road, to Newry Corner; North West Bethel; Locke Mills; Grover Hill Road, to Greenwood line; Paradise Hill; and Songo Pond Road, Albany. The results were about the same as in 1972, when there was 40 to 50 inches of snow and colder weather.

The count includes reports from 13 feeders also. Twenty-two species, totaling 834 birds, were recorded as follows: three Ring-necked Pheasants; 46 Herring Gulls; 11 mourning doves; 15 Hairy Woodpeckers; 10 Downy Woodpeckers; one Gray Jay; 158 Blue Jays; 21 crows; 175 Black-capped Chickadees; 13 White Breasted Nuthatches; 26 Red-breasted Nuthatches; 5 Robins; 107 Starlings; 1 Myrtle Warbler; 97 House Sparrows; 2 Common Grackles; 21 Brown-headed Cowbirds; 20 Evening Grosbeaks; 38 Goldfinches; 13 Slate-colored Juncos; 41 Tree Sparrows; seven White-throated Sparrows.

Species seen during count period, Dec. 15 through Jan. 1, but not on Count Day, were: one Cardinal; two Red-winged Blackbirds; one Iceland Gull; one Black-backed Gull, and one Brown Creeper.

Field observers were: Celia Gorman, compiler; Jane Van; Margaret Tibbetts; Rita Davis; Edith Rowe; Eva Perry and Joe Perry.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET AT SOUTH PARIS JANUARY 18

The Oxford County Republican Committee Chairman, Phillip C. Andrews of Fryeburg, has called a meeting for Jan. 18, 1974. Meeting will be held at the South Paris Fireman's hall, Market Square in South Paris at 7:30 p.m.

The Hon. Larry Simpson, Majority floor leader of the House will address the group.

A number of important matters will be discussed at the meeting. A most important and controversial matter, the re-appointment of the members of the House of Representatives will be discussed. Both Republicans and Democrats will be acting on this problem this special session of the Legislature. It now appears that there are several towns in Oxford County that will be consolidated with towns in Franklin and Cumberland County. It also appears that Oxford County will pick up one or two Republican seats that are presently held by Democrats. This issue will be hotly debated at this meeting.

State Treasurer, Norman K. Ferguson Sr., who has ably filled the job of Oxford County Finance Chairman for many years, will give a report on the 1973 Oxford County Finance Drive. He will report on the "Regain the Blue House Dinner" which proved so successful on November 15 at Portland.

Plans will be completed on the annual Oxford County Lincoln Day Dinner which will likely be held the latter part of February. Tentative location for the dinner is the Paris-Norway area.

Chairman Andrews extends an invitation to all interested persons to attend. All town chairmen and members as well as the town finance chairman are urged to attend this important meeting to hear how Oxford County and "your" town did in the 1973 Finance drive.

Jay; 158 Blue Jays; 21 crows; 175 Black-capped Chickadees; 13 White Breasted Nuthatches; 26 Red-breasted Nuthatches; 5 Robins; 107 Starlings; 1 Myrtle Warbler; 97 House Sparrows; 2 Common Grackles; 21 Brown-headed Cowbirds; 20 Evening Grosbeaks; 38 Goldfinches; 13 Slate-colored Juncos; 41 Tree Sparrows; seven White-throated Sparrows.

Species seen during count period, Dec. 15 through Jan. 1, but not on Count Day, were: one Cardinal; two Red-winged Blackbirds; one Iceland Gull; one Black-backed Gull, and one Brown Creeper.

DOLLARS FOR SCHOLARS CHAPTER MEETS

The S. A. D. 44 Chapter of Dollars for Scholars met this week at the home of Jane Young with several members present. It was decided that the annual spring concert will not be held this year.

In order to meet the ever increasing needs, members of the group are contacting the Blue Grass Singers to see if their group can perform for the community this winter. They have been here before and they are very good. Also being contacted are the Harlem Globetrotters, the Celtics, the Ice Follies and the Springfield College Gym Team. These are first on the list because of the interest shown. These groups are booked well in advance so plans are for next year and the years to come.

It is hoped that students will join the Dollars for Scholars chapter. Their fresh ideas and views would add much. Seniors will be benefiting from the organization, therefore, it is right that they should have a voice in how it is handled.

A good year for the local chapter is anticipated in order that the usual number of awards may be made.

U. OF M. ART EXHIBIT AT BETHEL LIBRARY

S. A. D. 44 BOARD SETS UNIFORM STARTING TIME FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

At their regular meeting on Monday evening of this week, held at Telstar Regional High School, the S. A. D. 44 board of directors decided that all elementary schools in the district shall open at 9 a.m. and close at 3 p.m. through March. The opening and closing times at Telstar are unchanged.

The change affects the Andover, Locke Mills and Woodstock elementary schools, and was scheduled to be effective this Thursday morning. Starting and closing times at the Bethel elementary schools and the Newry school are not changed as they customarily have been starting at 9 o'clock. The change was made to eliminate some of the hazards of younger students being on the streets and highways in the Daylight Time caused morning darkness.

The board indicated that it desired to consider other prospective candidates for the secretarial position in the office of the Cooperative Education Director.

It was established that the date of the Annual District Budget Meeting will be Thursday, Feb. 21. The board decided to ask for bids on the printing of the annual report of the district.

The resignation of Miss Patricia Rivard, Title I Kindergarten teacher at Andover Elementary School, was accepted effective Feb. 1.

The board voted to eliminate the Intramural program at Telstar as it existed prior to Aug. 13, 1973, and to refer to the Educational Development Committee for its consideration the following: "Should an Intramural Athletic Program be adopted for the 1974-75 school year and if so, what form should such a program take?"

There was a discussion of the 1975 fiscal year budget. The board tentatively approved the Debt Service and Tuition portions of the proposed budget.

Directors absent Monday evening were George Chase of Andover, and Paul Wight of Newry.

A special board meeting will be held at Telstar Regional High School at 7:30 on Tuesday evening, Jan. 15, for further work on the budget.

RADIAL TIRES SAVE ON GAS MILEAGE

Radial tires which come on new cars can reduce gasoline consumption by seven to 10 per cent when run at constant highway speeds, according to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

The tests compared comparable radial tires with belted tires, both of which are original equipment on 1974 automobiles.

The tests were made at the company's test center at Fort Stockton, Tex., with sophisticated measuring devices and equipment.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Collette Morgan, Corres. —

"Winter is like a dowager in an ermine cape settling down in the most comfortable chair for a long visit. Welcome or not she intends to stay as long as it pleases her. She scatters her jewels on her lap, and waits regally holding her white head high, as one of consequence. When she is roused, her cold wrath has fury—but when she smiles, she is beautiful."—Ida Ladd Brown.

On New Year's Day the windows were glazed with opaque mysteries of frost pictures and it did not promise to be a good day. However I took my snowshoes out in the afternoon for the first time of the winter season.

I traveled first to the farm fields just to get the feel of them once again. The snow had arrived during the night and the trees were draped in white. What a world we live in! All these little disks whirled down upon those who observe or those who don't; upon you, me, fields, forests, the fur of the restless squirrel, and the mountain tops. The countryside was a gorgeous panorama of beauty.

A branch lay in my path bent to the ground with its burden. I drummed it a bit and watched it shed fluffy showers and slowly rise above my head.

I continued as far as the fence where I stopped to look about. Three snowmobiles were racing on the pond in back of the farm buildings which looked particularly serene from where I stood. I viewed the fence and decided it was too high to climb with snowshoes so set off down a bulldozer road to try another trail. The swamp looked inviting but I dared not cross the channel at this time so I turned southeast toward the hills.

There were living pictures in the hemlocks and spruces where the hill was steep toward the sky; too steep for snowshoes.

To the right I turned into the hemlock grove where again snow hung low on each branch; winter time ruling supreme.

The sky had changed from its dismal gloom of morning to a blue and the earth reflected back its own intensity of light.

There was the screaming of the Jay from the grove then an answer from the austere shadows.

Standing here in the solitude of nature, with rocks, trees, weeds, and snow it was as if I had just come to a window. Staring about there was color seen and unseen. In the landscape nearby were gray and brown trees and white birches rising from the snow. Between me and the hilltop were stones whose shadows were almost black. To the west the pines stood dark, and the withered rusty autumn was still seen in the openings of fields. Tiny mosses still green nestled on rocks. At the brook's edge little ferns not equipped to live very far from a permanent source of moisture had found this secluded refuge.

Here among the trees one can observe the shadows of winter which are somehow unlike those of other seasons.

I looked for tracks to see what animals had been about; a squirrel.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

— Mrs. Olive Davis, Corres. —

Mr. and Mrs. James Mason and family returned home from Washington, D. C., where they left their mother, Mrs. Mabel Thurlow, for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Davis.

Mrs. Winfield Buck and Dale spent the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Hollis Buck and Dale's three brothers in New Jersey. They traveled by bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thurlow observed their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, Jan. 6, at the Legion Hall, West Paris, from 2 to 4 p. m. Their children, Leslye, Bruce and wife, Stuart, in conjunction with other relatives, gave the party. More than 125 were in attendance. The honored guests received several rabbits, and a mouse were all that I found.

Crossing a brook there was a small tinkle of water; music mingling unchanged with the wind in the trees. Nearby, from the oaks which still clung to some of their leaves came another sound, dry and melancholy. "Just as the inhabitant of Cape Cod hears the surf ever breaking on the shores, so we countrymen hear this kindred surf on the leaves of the forest."—Thoreau.

Thus I started a new year and ended my first snowshoe hike returning from this dusting of snow over hills and valleys a bit reluctant to let go of the known and to face toward the unknown.

"The old year slips into silver silence, Within our hearts we whisper our good-by;

For it has held some treasure for us all, Some tears, bright hope, gay laughter or a sigh.

The heart will long remember these lost hours, Lift up your eyes to greet the coming morn.

Though precious are our memory's pressed flowers, The New Year comes with hope and faith and song."

—Ruth B. Field

The Hayes family had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hayes and boys at Gray. Miss Ann Holt visited her brother, Robert, and family in Windsor on Sunday.

The children in town have enjoyed their vacation days skating and skiing.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan called on Ruth Hastings at South Paris on Friday. Joy Hayes is with her parents in New York for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Hayes, Auburn, were at the Hayes Homestead on Saturday.

The Ralph Leeper family, Rhode Island, were at their cottage here recently.

Maynard Chase, West Paris, was a Sunday caller at Holt's.

Callers this week at Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan's were: Fay, Ann, David Holt, Jean, Brenda, Maureen Millett, Sharon Jordan.

ed gifts and money and a beautiful wedding cake. Refreshments were served during the afternoon. The guests came from Richmond, Norway, Oxford, Bryant Pond and local territory.

Daylight saving began too early to save anything, in my mind, Lord pity the little children who are afraid of the dark if they have to wait for buses. I'm sure I would be petrified and if I would have had to walk a mile or even two steps from the door I'm sure I would have never lasted through the school year. What a shame to put this strain on our children. They are nervous enough already with their unsettled world so full of crimes that one hardly dares to leave home for fear of what they will find on their return. Think about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morgan spent a few holidays with Mrs. Morgan's parents, in Vermont.

Oxford Pomona met with Paris Grange No. 44 on the first day of January, with a 6:30 supper. There were 10 members from Excelsior Pomona present.

The program consisted of opening songs; Address of Welcome, Master of Paris Grange, Almon Harmon; Response, Ellis M. Davis; Song; Stephen Seames, Franklin Grange; Reading, "Parents Can Be Fun," Olive Davis; Talk on Finland, Eleanor and Taisto Koskela; Thought for the day; Song, Good-night Ladies.

The next meeting will be held at Franklin Grange No. 124, Bryant Pond, when a 6:30 supper will be served before the meeting. The fifth degree will be conferred at this meeting. Sick members reported were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coleman, Leo Calden and Hazel Cole. Sherri Poland is home from her school in Winsted, Conn., where she is attending No. Eastern University. She will return to school the last of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Guyson Davis wrote that they are enjoying 80 to 90° weather. They have been fishing and caught fish but the snakes were not to their liking.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis M. Davis visited with Mrs. Gladys Tyler at South Paris Saturday evening. Mrs. Altha Harriman and Mr. and Mrs. Thurston, were there, also. This group went to Hawaii in 1972 on an Easter trip as they reviewed the pictures and slides on Hawaii exchanging experiences on the trip.

TELSTAR NEWS

GUIDANCE

Students or previous graduates going on to school next year should see Mr. Elliot or Mr. Burke at Telstar. The counselors would be pleased to have interested parents call for information or assistance.

Many schools have application deadlines of Feb. 15. It is important to have applications, references, transcripts and scholarship forms submitted by then. Admissions officers have begun to review applications, fill their classes and commit scholarship funds. Money is available for many local students from a number of sources. No one should assume that he or she cannot afford more schooling until they have reviewed all possibilities.

The following seniors have been accepted at college for the coming year:

Teresa Belisle, University of Maine, Orono, Anthropology; Mary Ann Chapin, University of Maine, Portland-Gorham, Elementary Education; Linda Cole, University of Maine, Orono, Animal Medical Technology; Herbert Coolidge, University of Maine, Portland-Gorham, History; Gale Glover, Central Maine General, Radiology; Pierrette Lamontagne, New Hampshire Vocational Technical Institute, Business Administration; Chris Twitchell, University of Maine, Portland-Gorham, Nursing.

REMOVAL OF THE PRESIDENT?

by Wali Cherry

Congress took the first step toward removal of the President when it approved Congressman Ford for the Vice Presidency.

The second step, impeachment by the House, seems imminent. Several Congressmen have agreed to introduce the resolution and there is reason to believe that this indictment accusing the President of "high crimes or other misdemeanors" will be carried. There is historical precedence for this step, for the managers of the Andrew Johnson impeachment had no difficulty finding sufficient cause to accuse him.

The third step will likely be attempted, but will be more difficult to achieve. A two-thirds majority of the Senate is required and it is always difficult to muster that many votes for any bill or resolution. However, it is possible.

The fourth step is what is offered for consideration here. The removal of the President. The Constitution is seemingly clear on the matter, stating that the President may be removed from office for adequate cause. The framers doubtless anticipated that, if the Senate found the incumbent guilty, he would immediately resign. However, there are no words in the Document prescribing the procedure for removal if he does not resign, and no branch of government, no office, nor person is vested with the authority to enforce the will of the Congress in this matter.

The fact is, the authors and signers of the Constitution saw fit to vest every and all force to execute the will of the Congress in the Office of the President. He was given the power to appoint all heads of Department whose duties would be the promulgation of the laws pertaining to their areas of responsibility.

Some of these Departments require force of arms to complete their duties, and they established bureaus of agencies for those purposes. Most notable is the Department of Justice, headed by the Attorney General, and staffed by Marshals in whom are vested the powers of arrest and commitment.

The Treasury Department, with diverse functions established the Secret Service, which agency provides the special force of armed men who

TELSTAR CHRISTMAS CONCERT HELD DEC. 20

As many of you know, the music department at Telstar gave their annual Christmas concert, Dec. 20. We just wanted to tell those who may not have seen it that it was a success. Despite the inflation problem we really did well financially. Also despite the weather we really were pleased to see so many people turn up. It was especially gratifying because we all really put in a lot of work and were hoping that the weather wouldn't be a factor in stopping people from coming. Linda Hathaway was a real big help to us during our practices. She had been student teaching here at Telstar for Mr. Bangs. A big thanks goes to Herbie Coolidge for his excellent job of taping the concert for our files. And thanks to you all who made this year's concert the success it was. — Music Publicity, Bethel, 824-2444.

pledge their lives to protect the President.

The War Department, now called the Department of Defense, of course, includes all the military services. The President was designated Commander-in-Chief during times of war, but in the last two "wars", while there were no formal declarations of war, the President was, in fact, Commander-in-Chief. There are no words in the Constitution dictating who will be Supreme Commander, not in times of war. Further, the President selects the Secretary of Defense and the Chiefs of Staff of the various Services.

In neither of the two remaining Branches of government is there any force of arms. It is clear our borebears did not, in their wildest dreams, imagine there would be any resistance to the mandates of the Congress. Neither did they expect that one day, the Office of the President would acquire nearly all the posture of an emperor's throne. Nor did they anticipate an incumbent with an "embarrassment threshold" as high as Mr. Nixon's.

To date, nothing has been "proved" against him, and he has shown flashes of great talent. However, he has become the object of doubt, ridicule and mistrust in all corners of the world, but more particularly,

Who, then, would be assigned the tacky chore of attempting to remove him? If he refused to leave to whom would Congress turn for assistance? To whom did the Congress turn when Mr. Nixon fired Archibald Cox, when the Special Prosecutor became too diligent in the tasks assigned him? What was Congress able to do when the Attorney General resigned and the Assistant Attorney General was fired by the President over the same issue? Had not the President agreed to surrender "the tapes" to the Courts, which could or would have forced them from him?

The foregoing is all highly speculative, but a lot of funny things are happening in Washington nowadays.

FOR SIX MILLION Skiing Today Is Big Sport In The USA

By Pat Dudgeon

Advancements in ski technology have made skiing safer and more enjoyable than ever before. Whole new lines of equipment and clothing have emerged. Metal and plastic have all but eliminated the use of wood in making skis. Epoxy. Fiberglass, too. Boots are now comfortable. Bindings are safe. Area facilities have been expanded to cater to the new breed of skier. New systems and techniques of teaching have proliferated. Colors are the fashion leader. Newer, safer and faster means have been devised to carry more skiers up the mountain.

Over six million Americans will travel to one or more of the almost eight hundred ski areas in operation in the United States today. Skiing in this country represents a billion dollar industry. Advertising, manufacturing, fashion, land development and the like are integral elements of the trade. Money, then, is a large part of it but skiing affords many other things. It is a sport easily enjoyed by all members of a family. It offers an exciting way to spend the increased leisure time now available to many people. Skiing provides an exhilarating outdoor experience for those who feel trapped indoors throughout the long winter.

Mountains. Powder snow. Moguls. Tree-lined trails. Cross-country skiing. All these and more beckon the modern-day skier. Skis are shorter and more durable. It doesn't take as much as your next-door-neighbor-ski-club-member would like to have you believe it does! Try it!

Urban Rush

Although ski areas themselves furnish some of the more serious skiers, racers, ski bums and the like, the majority of those skiing in the USA today reside in our urban areas and use their week-ends and winter vacation time to make it to the slopes. Ski clubs for families, singles, students and many more abound in cities throughout the country. Many hours of driving over icy roads are often necessary to reach the designated place but once there the fun begins. Daytime means skiing. For those with extra energy most areas provide a surplus of restaurants, night spots and the like.

Most skiers find something in their sport that is missing from their normal, routine existence. It affords some thrills, some spills. As with most other things the more you ski the more proficient you become and the more fun it is. To ski down a mountain, hearing only the smooth sounds of metal on snow, the splendor of winter all around, at the speed of your choosing (up to 40 mph), is a totally unique experience. It can't be described. It must be experienced.

The ski industry is not without its problems. Conflicts over land use and ecology are prevalent. Conservationists cringe as trees are replaced by ski trails. Development in individual areas is not always welcomed by local inhabitants. The energy crisis with its resultant restrictions on Sunday driving is looked upon as an evil omen by most ski area operators. Despite these and other troublesome issues, though, skiing as an industry and as a sport is enjoying an unprecedented boom. And rightfully so, perhaps, as it does provide the means by which millions of Americans can escape their daily cares and seek the silent solace of winter as it is in the mountains. If you're thinking about such a vacation, our next article will furnish some helpful hints on how to begin planning your trip.

ICE CONDITIONS HAZARDOUS
DUE TO MILD WEATHER

Ice fishermen and snowmobilers are cautioned by the Maine Fish and Game Dept. that unsafe ice conditions prevail throughout the state.

Unusually mild weather to date, and heavy rains have resulted in an exceptionally late freeze-up of Maine's lakes and streams. Waters that usually have safe conditions by this time of the season should not be trusted until the ice thickness has been checked, and then travelled only with extreme caution.

An added hazard this season is the high water level of many of Maine's lakes, ponds, and streams. Freeze-ups that began at high water and continued as the water level dropped could cause yet another very dangerous situation.

Inlets and outlets are always unsafe—and with high water levels causing strong currents, many others will likely remain unsafe throughout the winter.

All those who venture onto frozen bodies of water this winter are urged again to do so with extreme caution.

INTERNATIONAL PAGEANT
POSTPONED TO EASTER

Karen Sauret, 12 year old daughter of Herman and Harriette Sauret, of Andover, will have to wait to compete in the World Competition of the International Talent Pageant.

The Pageant has been postponed to the Easter holidays due to the Energy Crisis.

Many girls were unable to get bookings, after the cut back in flights by the nation's airline companies in a fuel saving measure.

Faced with the possibility of many state representatives not being able to secure flights and the closing of most service stations over Christmas in the Eastern States, the pageant's executive director, Ken Malone, postponed the pageant to the Easter holidays.

Approximately 125 girls will compete in this talent show-case and incentive program from states and provinces throughout the United States and Canada.

EXPERIMENTAL WOOD CHIP
FURNACE IS OPERATIONAL
AT U. OF M., ORONO

A full automatic furnace using wood chips for fuel is now operational in the workshop of the Agricultural Engineering Building at the University of Maine's Orono Campus. The furnace is part of a research project to find another source of residual heat in Maine utilizing the state's abundant wood supply, including waste wood and pucker-brush. Present figures estimate that a wood burning furnace might cost about 50 per cent more than a conventional oil furnace but that this extra cost would be paid off in five to 10 years of burning wood chips.

U. M. W. TO OBSERVE
CALL TO PRAYER
AND SELF-DENIAL

United Methodist Women of the United Methodist Church of Bethel will hold one of their most important annual observances next week—The Call to Prayer and Self-Denial. About 1.5 million women in 35,000 local units in all 50 states will join in the observance.

The Call, inspired by special mission needs focuses on prayer, a deepened spiritual life, and a guided mission study. Major events of the observance include the Quiet Day and an interpretation of the mission projects in the United States and abroad for which a special offering will be made. Each woman who takes part is asked to give for others by denying herself, and to cultivate through prayer a spiritual oneness with planners, mission workers, and those served in church-related ministries.

The Call to Prayer and Self-Denial for women of the Bethel church will be held at 1:30 o'clock on Thursday, Jan. 17, at the home of Betty Perkins.

The Women's Division of the United Methodist Board of Global Ministries sponsors the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial and has designated two aspects of the large United Methodist mission program to benefit from this year's special offering. The Division says of the 1974 Mission aspects:

In the United States the offering will be used for "Ministries to Young Children and Teen-Agers."

Overseas, the offering will be directed toward "Ministries and Movements for Peace and Justice."

Last year the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial offerings of United Methodist Women totaled $680,144.
